Entryway addresses the real issue of situational homelessness in Tennessee. How do you find a job without an address? How do you get an address without a job? Our solution is to do both by partnering with companies in the multifamily industry.

Our screened and trained participants completed industry standard training, and win a job as leasing agents, maintenance technicians, groundskeepers, and housekeepers at local apartment communities where they live and work.

These industry partners waive the initial fees, the first 30 days of rent, and ensure that participants are not paying more than 30% of their income on rent. Additionally, through a national partnership with CORT Furniture, every participant receives all of the items needed to furnish an apartment.
